

Specialty Tax Services Your Checklist.

Before your client signs their tax return, make sure you have reviewed the return for eligibility of the credits, incentives, and tax-saving possibilities described below.

DO YOUR CLIENTS:	YES	YOUR BENEFIT:
Design, develop, improve a product, process, technique, formula, invention or software?	<input type="checkbox"/>	May qualify for federal and state R&amp;D Credits .
Export goods or services?	<input type="checkbox"/>	May qualify for various federal export incentives .
Pay sales tax?	<input type="checkbox"/>	Most likely your business has overpaid sales tax , as almost every state has numerous manufacturing sales tax exemptions available which most businesses don't know about.
Have operations in multiple states?	<input type="checkbox"/>	Most likely your business has overpaid state income tax .
Have manufacturing operations in the U.S.?	<input type="checkbox"/>	May qualify for various federal and state manufacturing incentives .
Have employees in federal or state regions designated for economic development?	<input type="checkbox"/>	We can conduct a preliminary analysis to determine if your business is eligible for one or more of a variety of employment-based credits offered by the federal government and specific states.
Face an audit or dispute with any federal or state taxing authority?	<input type="checkbox"/>	alliantgroup can help your business successfully resolve any federal or state tax controversy .

If the answer is "yes" to any of the above questions, your clients may be eligible to receive thousands of dollars from the government in the form of credits, deductions, and incentives. alliantgroup is the nation's premier provider of specialty tax services, bringing added value to their businesses by helping them take advantage of federal, state, and local tax credits and incentives.